

MIRROR: OPONCE

Design by

Studio C&PY et JC Amey

Description

The Oponce triple mirror owes its name to the opuntia ('oponce' in French), a plant from the cactus family with flat, racket-shaped stems, of which there are numerous varieties including the Barbary fig.

Oponce is composed of three car rear view mirrors fixed onto an MDF frame and then covered in pigmented split leather finished with toning saddle stitching.

The black lacquered steel wall hook is located on the back of the central mirror.
